IN THE THEATRES

JACKSON'S

THREE TWINS.

"Three Twins" which comes to Jackson's this evening and tomorrow matinee and night, is the best musical comedy that has been produced in years. It has a good plot and many novel features. The music is fascinating and two-thirds of the audience, on leaving the theatre, are humming or whistling some of the numerous melodies which so greatly please them. "Three Twins" is called the "Ben Hur" of musical comedies, because it is the largest musical attraction in America. The musical electric aerial swing is the largest scenic effect ever staged, with the exception of the chariot race in "Ben Hur." The facograph is another one of the many electric effects that helps to make "Three Twins" the smartest of all musical attractions. The costumes are gorgeous and include eight of the handsomest Parisian Directoire gowns ever brought to America. "Three Twins" will be remembered as the leading musical comedy success of last season in New York city, and it should draw capacity audiences at each performance of its engagement here.

THE PRINCESS OF PATCHES.

When the Prince went forth to find a foot to fit the glass slipper he sought in vain until he met the Princess of Patches. It was when the manager of "The Princess of Patches" sought a star for this beautiful play, he traveled far until he met the Princess of Patches, the son of Dainty Estelle Allen. This beautiful young lady fits so well into this powerful play that it is often remarked that it fits her like a glove. The company supporting Miss Allen is far above the average and will be seen at Jackson's the first three days of next week with daily matinees.

MR. LOUIS MANN.

Mr. Louis Mann in his new play, "The Man Who Stood Still," will be at Jackson's this evening and tomorrow night. The play had a long season at the Circle Theatre, New York city, and has just concluded a very successful engagement at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, where Mr. Mann's interpretation of John Krauss, the Bourbon of the title, was the subject of a great deal of criticism. He comes under the management of Mr. William A. Brady and has in his company such well known players as Maxine Elliott, Emily Ann Welman, Louis Hendricks, H. A. La Motte, Lillian Sinnott, Leslie Bassett, Edwin Maynard, Louise Johnson and Frank Julian. The play will commence next Tuesday morning.

MR. JACOB ADLER.

A special extraordinary engagement will be played at Jackson's Theatre, Thursday evening at Jackson's Theatre, when the famous Jacob P. Adler All-Star Yiddish Company direct from Adler's Grand Theatre, New York city, will give one performance presenting the great success, "The Stranger," a drama of Yiddish life in four acts by the late Jacob Gordin. The above mentioned company is headed by the eminent Yiddish tragedian, Mr. Jacob P. Adler, and is supported by the favorite Yiddish players, Miss Sarah Adler and Miss Frances Adler, and an all-star cast of Yiddish players. Mr. Jacob P. Adler in the leading role will portray types which are very interesting to those who even do not understand the Yiddish language.

PARK CITY CAFE.

The Park City Cafe, 179 Fairfield avenue, over John T. Donovan's Park City Bowling Alleys will open tomorrow. Here can be had at short notice all delicacies of the season. "Tony," the chef, and formerly connected in like capacity with the Bridgeport Club, the Brookline Country Club, and Bullen's will be in charge and this alone gives assurance that everything will be of the best. The telephone call is 2355.

VOTE ON LICENSE IS RULED OUT

CORPORATION COUNSEL ROGERS HOLDS 10 PER CENT. LAW IS NOT EFFECTIVE IN NEW HAVEN.

AN OBSTACLE IN OLD LAW

New Haven, Sept. 24.—As the result of the definite opinion handed to Town Clerk Whitaker by Corporation Counsel Rogers there will be no vote at the coming election, on the question of whether or not there shall be license in the city of New Haven. The decision, given in response to the request of the town clerk for an opinion as to whether the new law which was passed by the last legislature or that in effect hitherto governs the city on the petition for the consideration of the license question, instead of just 25 voters as had been required before was effective. The legislature passed the new law on the 10th of October 1 and the question was whether it governed the election which falls three days later or whether the old law governed. The anti-license people have filed a petition to have the question taken up under the provisions of the old law with twenty-five voters as the basis for the consideration of the license question. The Corporation Counsel has also decided that this old law is in effect and that the one passed this year does not cover the present election at all. This would seemingly favor the contention of the anti-license supporters but on examination of the older law Mr. Rogers has discovered what he holds to be insurmountable legal obstacles which under that law makes it impossible to vote on this matter this year.

After deciding that the older law is the one which governs the present case Corporation Counsel Rogers has found that it provides expressly for petitions for a vote at annual town meetings and as there is no such thing as an annual town meeting in New Haven the law cannot apply at all. In accordance with this decision any vote on the license question since the abolishing of the town meeting was not in accordance with this law.
